

GLN AUTHOR BIOGRAPHIES

SUE CHESHIRE (United Kingdom) — Sue has a clear life's soul purpose of working with leaders and their organizations to enrich individual lives through personal transformation, and to build organizations that are not only profitable, but are truly agents of world benefit. Her achievements, successes and big personal challenges have been instrumental in her own learning journey. She is personally committed to inspiring business leaders to take seriously the strong correlation between a healthy company and the health of the leader(s) in terms of mind, body and soul. Her lifelong passion is to awaken the business world to the opportunities and challenges facing the planet, and to find authentic ways to operate and lead with clarity, integrity and compassion.

Since September 2005, Sue has joined a team to launch an aspirational new venture, Beyond North Ltd, a company dedicated to the personal transformation of business leaders and major influencers across disciplines, faiths and geographic boundaries. The company operates out of a country house in Oxfordshire in the UK, where programmes and retreats are held with a core focus on health, wealth and happiness.

Since January 1997, Sue was the co-founder and Managing Director of The Academy for Chief Executives. The Academy for Chief Executives is a network of invited CEOs who have a passion and a commitment to enhance their awareness and effectiveness as a business leader and to create and sustain a high performance business. Grown from start-up to 400-plus members across the UK, these CEOs participate in the Academy process every month, which includes a full day working on their own issues and leadership with like-minded peers.

In October 2001, Sue co-founded a sister company to The Academy, Leaders Quest. This not-for-profit organization strives to awaken the global insights of business leaders, inviting groups to share their experience and talent with other inspirational leaders, across disciplines and cultures, around the world. The company has successfully organized Quest trips to the USA, India, Africa, China and South America, which has resulted in significant personal transformations.